READER IN COMPARATIVE RELIGION:

An Anthropological Approach

William A. Lessa and Evon Z. Vogt, Editors

"This, surely, is no parochial book. . . . [It] swings through the centuries and all the continents. The authors represent many nationalities and professions. We have bishops and anthropologists, literary critics and sociologists, psychiatrists and clergymen, administrators and psychologists. And the full gamut of the religious experience emerges in the materials: rationality and passion; the supplication of bliss and of dread; a lurking, snake-like fear; the carrion gobbling of the garbage of sensations; mistrust and lurking insolence, insolence against a higher creation; the drift of spent souls; the striving for a center to life; the wheeling upon a dark void; the unquenched desire to worship." From the Foreword by Clyde Kluckhohn. 614 pp. $7.25
